2. Licence

- (i) Subject to Licensee’s compliance with the terms and conditions of this agreement, DDEX grants Licensee a limited, nonexclusive, non-transferable, non-sublicenseable, licence solely to reproduce, distribute within Licensee’s organisation, and use the DDEX Standards solely for the Purpose subject at all times to such further disclaimers, requirements and restrictions on use as set forth in this licence and that the Licensor may publish from time to time on the DDEX website located at www.ddex.net.
- (ii) Licensee may develop and use messages which are created by adding User Defined Values within a DDEX Message Standard but such User Defined Values are outside the compass of the DDEX Standards until such User Defined Values have been included in a new version of the relevant DDEX Message Standard.

- (iii) Licensee may access the DPid Reference Descriptive Metadata Repository upon receipt from DDEX of an authorised user name and password pair.
- (iv) All other rights in and to all DDEX Standards are reserved.

3. Limitations

- (i) Implementation and use of the DDEX Standards may be subject to the rights of third parties, including DDEX members. DDEX members have agreed to license their Essential Claims as defined in and in accordance with the DDEX IP Policy which is available from www.ddex.net. Licensee warrants that it has read the DDEX IP Policy.
- (ii) Licensee may not use any trademarks owned by the Licensor or any of its members unless otherwise authorised separately in writing.
- (iii) Licensee may not remove the intellectual property, licence requirements, or disclaimer notices attached or linked to any of the DDEX Standards.

- (v) Licensee acknowledges that, to ensure the integrity and on-going interoperability of the DDEX Message Standards and to enable the DDEX Message Standards to continue to be relevant to Licensees by meeting up to date business requirements, Licensee is strongly encouraged (other than in exceptional circumstances) to notify DDEX of any User Defined Values through the DDEX change request process as envisaged in Clause 4(iv). Licensee therefore agrees that it will not enforce any obligation of confidentiality with respect to any User Defined Value, whether contractual or otherwise, to the extent such obligation would require a third party who agreed to that obligation to refrain from using a User Defined Value (1) to exchange messages with other parties who independently request the same User Defined Value (2) in the event that the User Defined Value is included in the DDEX Message Standards. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Agreement shall not impair Licensee's right to enforce any obligation of confidentiality with respect to its business model or any other confidential information other than as expressly set forth above.
- (vi) This licence grants no other rights with regard to access to the DPid Reference Metadata or the data it contains.

4. Licensee Obligations

the DDEX Party Identifier Standard (Section B.2.) also available at www.ddex.net and any other such data elements as the Licensor may reasonably request to:

Any Feedback, even if designated as confidential by Licensee, shall not create any confidentiality obligation on Licensor. In the event that Licensee provides Feedback to Licensor and is not a member of Licensor, Licensee grants DDEX and DDEX Licensees a worldwide, non-exclusive, non-terminable, perpetual: (i) royalty-free copyright licence; and (ii) royalty-free licence under those patent claims of Licensee and its affiliates that are necessarily infringed in connection with any use or implementation of Feedback, to use, disclose, reproduce, modify, create derivative works, distribute, transmit, exploit, have made, or otherwise dispose of or use, or license (including the right to sublicense and grant the right to further sublicences) any Feedback provided by Licensee to Licensor in connection with the DDEX Standard. Except as expressly licensed herein, Licensee retains all right, title and interest to the Feedback and no other rights are granted. ## 7. Term and Termination

This agreement shall commence upon the Acceptance Date and shall continue indefinitely unless terminated by the Licensor. This agreement will terminate automatically and with immediate effect in the event that Licensee materially breaches any of these terms and conditions. The Licensor may also terminate this agreement for any reason whatsoever, at the Licensor's complete discretion and without prejudice to any of its other rights, by giving Licensee six months notice of termination.

No later than six months after the termination of this agreement, for whatever reason, Licensee will cease using any implementations of DDEX Standards that Licensee has built, developed or otherwise utilised to implement the DDEX Standards.

All of these terms and conditions which in order to give effect to their meaning need to survive the termination of the licence in whole or in part shall remain in full force and effect after termination.

Licensee will at all times be and remain responsible for the performance of Licensee's obligations under this agreement and for all acts, omissions and/or defaults of any of Licensee's affiliates. The remedies available to the Licensor under this agreement are not exclusive and are in addition to any and all other remedies that are available at law or in equity, none of which shall be deemed to be waived by virtue of the Licensor's exercise of any other remedy.
